REPORT OF THE SOCIALIST PARTY VOTE.

IN THE NATION.

The Socialist Party Has Gained at Least 133 Per Cent. in Two Years-Increase All Over the Land-Figures for Twenty-five States. -

Although it is not yet possible to give a full and accurate report of the vote polled by the Socialist Party (called in New York the Social Democratic Party) in November, throughout the nation," we can give a general idea of what has been accomplished.

We elected, on Nov. 4, three members of the Massachusetts Legislature, five members of the Montana Legisla ture, an alderman in Saginaw, Mich., and several minor officers. Last week we elected two mayors, three alderofficers in Massachusetts cities.

In general, our increase was so wide ly and evenly distributed over the country that it does not yet show itself in victory at the polls. This is very satisfactory, for it means that our growth is stendy and solid and that when, in another two years, we shall make another such forward step as we have this time, we shall carry a large number of places simultaneously and shall be sure of holding them

The following table gives the vote of the Socialist Party, in 1900 and 1902, Totals 78,804 208,338 five states in the table indicates that the figures given for 1902 are not official, but represent a safe estimate.)

Fourteen other states, in the election of 1900, gave us 18,826 votes. In some of these we had this year only Con gressional tickets in a few of the districts, so that, no comparison can be made; from others we have no approxamately full reports.

To sum up, we may say that the tote of the Socialist Party has risen in two years from 97,640 to at least 227, 164 and probably to about 240,000. Our gain is at least 133 per ceut.

It may be added that in Colorado at feast 5,000 of our votes were undoubtedly counted out, as the law there uri and some parts of Pennsylvania many of our votes seem to have been stolen; and the same thing has doubtless happened to some extent

The Republicans Illegally Count In Their Candidate

Board of Registrars Counted for Watson Enough Blanks to Overcome Socialist Plurality-Case Goes to Supreme Court

HAVERHILL, Mass., Dec. 6.-The yes of all Socialists have been turned oward Brockton this week. Haverhill rejoices in the Brockton victory, but has no occasion to apoligize for herself. Of all the strenuous campaigns ever waged here, that just ended was the hotest. But, indeed, it is not ended

As things look now, Parkman B. Planders, Socialist, will be Mayor of Haverhill in January, but we have to fight for it, to checkmate Republican fraud.

The result of the vote as reported by the precinct officers gave Watson, the Republican candidate, the election by 14 votes. Yesterday a recount was eld at our demand. Our representatives found that the Board of Regis trars were counting blank votes for Watson, and they continued to do so regardless of our protests. The result was that they counted us out by giving Watson a lead of 12 votes, Flan gaining three and Watson one. gaining three and Watson one.

> The voters are supposed to mark an X opposite the name of the candidate they wish to vote for, but in the case of the ballots in question—15 or 20 in number—the X was marked opposite the blank space underneath the name the blank space underneath the name of Watson. This blank space is reserved to voters to write the name of a candidate, if they do not choose to vote for any of those that appear on the ballot. The Board of Registrars decided that these ballots were intend-ed for Watson, and so counted them, in spite of a decision rendered by the Supreme Judicial Court declaring ballots so marked should not be counted for any candidate.

The decision of the Supreme Court n the case referred to (O'Connell vs Mathews, and others, 177 Mass., 518; has been reported as follows:

"The second ground on which the petitioner alleged the said recount to be erroneous and illegal, was that there were 17 ballots which were counted as blank, as to the vote for Mayor, and which should have been counted for the petitioner. The ground for this contention was that the petitioner's name was at the bottom of the list of candidates for Mayor on the official ballot, and that next below it was a blank space, as provided by law, in which the voter might write the name of some person other than the names printed on the official ballot, and that on the said 17 or more ballots a cross was made in the square on the right of and opposite to the blank space and in the square next below the square which was directly at the right and opposite to the petitioner's name, and the petitioner averred that each of sail tended as a mark opposite to his, the petitioner's name; and that it was erroneous and illegal to reject said bal-lots, or to count them as blanks, and that the same should have been counted for the petitioner. "As to the 17 ballots with crosse against blanks, the statute clearly intends that the cross shall be against the space for which it counts, sections 194 and 224. The physical arrange ment of the ballots bears an unmistak able meaning, and, whatever may be conjectured in cases like this it possible to treat the crosses as if it had been put in a different square. "Petition dismissed."

It will be seen that the case is ex actly parallel and the ruling very clear. We do not see how the court can fail to decide for Flanders.

The State Executive Committee has voted to give all the assistance in its power to the Haverhill comrades to pushing the matter, and it may become necessary to ask for financial assis-tence from the comrades at large in order to carry the case through the courts. Were it not that we believe Flanders entitled to be declared elected Mayor of Haverhill, we would not in r the trouble and expense in particular the trouble and expense in par uble and expense in pushing the methods of our opponents when they are in desperate circumstances, even if we do not accomplish anything

Tuesday, the Socialist vote was 14 per cent. of the total number of votes cast. In the state election our per cent. of the total was only nine per cent., showing an increase of five per cent.

The Massachusetts comrades find it necessary to appeal for financial aid in carrying the Haverhill election case to the Supreme Court and pushing it to a conclusion. The state and municipal campaigns have left the party with campaigns have left the party with but small funds on hand and money for this purpose must be had at once,

"LABOR, DEMOCRACY'S NATURAL ALLY."

Two Years Too Late the Most Radical of Democrats Learns a Now Useless Lesson.

Under the headline, "Labor-Democracy's Natural Ally," within a few days after election, William Randolph Hearst, newly elected to Congress on the Tammany ticket, printed in his various papers a sort of pronunciamento, which may be considered as opening his campaign for the Presidency.

This article is probably familiar, by this time, to all-of our readers. need not, therefore, quote from it in

In this declaration Mr. Hearst makes a bold bid for the leadership of the Democratic party, for the place that Bryan seems to have lost and that Tom L. Johnson failed to qualify for. He does not wait for a convention to draw the platform, but proceeds to lay down the lines upon which, as he thinks, the Democratic party can put him in the White House. His argument, briefly, is this: The Republican party is in alliance with the trusts. The trusts support the Re-publican party and the Republican party in power serves the trusts. Therefore, the Democratic party, in order to succeed, must establish similar alliance with the labor unlo Two sentences give the key to Mr. Henrst's iden.

His idea of the just demands of labor s this: "The struggle of labor is for A FAIR SHARE OF WHAT IT PRO-DUCES."
His idea of practical Democratic politics in the present situation is this:

"If the Democrats would succeed they must establish with THE LEADERS OF LABOR the relationship which the Republicans have established with the leaders of the trusts."

Let us give Mr. Hearst due credit. He is a bold man and has made a bold bid for victory-only he is a little too late. Mr. Hearst will not be the next president of the United States. Senator Hanna was right when he said that "the fight of the future will not be between Republicanism and Democracy, but between Republicanism and So-Two years ago, if any Dmeocrat in

The veriest fool or coward can utter such words now and attract no notice.
We have got beyond the "fair share" stage. We have got to the stage where the thinking workers, the independent and aggressive workers, the ones and aggressive workers, the ones whom it would be worth Mr. Hearst's while to attract are saying, "We want THE WHOLE of our product, and WE ARE GOING TO GET IT."

That is why the Socialist vote grows -because the Socialist Party dared to stand for this idea BEFORE it became popular.

And Mr. Hearst's ideas of politics are quite in keeping with his outworn economics.

He hopes to capture the rank and file of the workers by establishing with their leaders the same relations that the Republicans have established with the leaders of the trusts—i. e., relations of bargain and sale.

That idea is not original with Mr. Hearst, Boss Croker and Corporation Counsel Hill and Copper Kings Clark and Helnze in his own party were ahead of him; but Mark Hanna and the Senator from the New York Cen-tral and the Senator from the United States Express know the trick equally well. It was a good trick-in its time It s still serviceable, but getting risky. When the rank and file have begun to think right, you cannot make them go back and think wrong by "estab-lishing relations with their leaders."

The Socialist Party has nothing to fear from Mr. Hearst. It will not seek to "establish relations with labor lead-ers." And it will not need to "establish relations" with the rank and file. That is already done. In the future, as in the past it will champion the cause of the whole working class; and the working class will understand. It "a fair day's pay" nor consent to any "sharing" of the workers' product. It will still insist that the only fair pay for the workers is the full value of their product and will continue to point out to them how they can get point out to them how they can get that fair pay and put an end to the present system of "dividing up." The forgoing dispatch appeared as a "special" in the New York "Times" on Monday. We have as yet no direct information on the subject.

It is to be supposed, if the report be well founded, as we incline to think that it is, that it does not mean that Comrade McGrady has withd from the church, but merely that he has resigned his position as a priest.

Since he began his open advocacy of Socialism, Father McGrady has been subjected to severe attacks from several other clergymen of the same church, and by some high prelates, and it has been surmised, though he has made no public statement on the sub-ject, that great pressure has been brought to bear upon him by the church authorities to induce him to keep quiet on the labor question or confine himself to harmless and m ingless platitudes like those of Bishop Spalding or the Protestant Bishop Potter of New York. Comrade McGrady temperament, however, and the event announced in the dispatch has been generally expected for some time.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 7.-Father Me. Grady, who resigned from the priest-hood to-day, will speak in Music Hail (the largest in the city, holding five thousand people), on Wednesday even-ing. Dec. 17. At this meeting he will state his reasons for giving up h

THE PARTY'S EMBLEM.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ACT.

The Worker heartly seconds th recommendation of the "Volkszei-Tung." that the city organization of the Social Democratic Party inaugurate a movement to demand of the city government that it take immediate and renuous measures to relieve the fear ful hardships now prevailing among the working people because of the high price of fuel.

Hundreds of thousands of working people in this city are shivering in their wretched homes; thousands of bables and sick or aged workingmen and women are in dally danger of dying for lack of warmth-all to secure the capitalists' profits.

Low and Jerome and their friends in office are not disturbed about this. They and the people of their class have coal. They will not act or think or by arousing their fears.

Let Local New York of the Social mocratic Party call upon all the dabor organizations of the city to join it in a tremendous demonstration to demand that the workers who have made the city have coal to keep them warm, no matter where it comes from no matter what it costs the capitalist in increased taxes.

We can do this. We alone can do l effectively. Let it not be neglected.

We have ceased to wonder at the systematic falsification of facts relating to the Socialist movement perpe trated by the Associated Press, see "a method in its madness." We are not surprised to see that, the So cial Democratic Party having received 23,400 votes in the state of New York the 'Associated Press gives us less than 20,000 and that, the "union smashing" S. L. P. having polled less than 16,000, the Associated Press give it over 25,000. The Associated Pres knows what it is about perhans And perhaps the leader of the S. L. P. knows equally well. However, the truth will come out. Much as the capitalists controlling the Associated Press might like to boom the S. L. P., they can hardly prevent the Social place on the ballot in this state next

New York are finding great comfort in saying that, while the Socialist vote to say, however, that, wherever there was any considerable falling off, it was the S. L. P. that lost. As to the vote of the Social Democratic Party, we may call attention to some of the figures. We lost votes in fifteen countles it is true; but the best of these counties (Madison) gave us only 69 votes two years ago; the whole fifteen gave us but 3% out of our 13,493 votes two years ago, and our total loss in these counties was but 135; on the other hand we gained in forty-two counties and the total of these gains was 10.042. The capitalist papers speak especially of Socialist losses in Erie, Onelda, Onondaga, and Oswego counties; in Erie, as a matter of fact, the Social Democratic Party gained 105 votes, or 26 per cent.; in Oneida we gained 33 votes, or 28 per cent.; in Onondaga we gained slightly; and in Oswego we lost but 8 votes. This will show how much rellance can be placed on the "news" of the Socialist movement printed in

President Roosevelt has, in form, de parted from the traditional way of treating the labor question in presidential messages. In a message of less than the usual length, he has given much more than the usual space to this subject. The number of words he devotes to it is really quite formidable. But alas! when we have read the passage through, we find that there are words and pothing more.

Considering the extent to which Rossevelt's intervention in the coal strike was used as a campaign argument in the late campaign we might have expected of him, even as a politician, that he would make-some sort of definite recommendations-ridiculously inadequate no doubt, but at least somewhat tangible.

Nothing of the sort do we find-not me solitary recommendation does be make, unless the reference to the proposed department of commerce be considered as coming under the heading

It will be worth while for workingmen to preserve for future reference the portion of the message supposed to deal with the relations of labor and capital, and we therefore spare the space to reproduce it. It is really worthy of a careful reading, if only as a splendid example of "the use of Innguage to conceal the absence of thought." President Roosevelt says: "How to secure fair treatment alike for labor and for capital, how to hold in check the unscrupulous man whether employer or employee, with out hampering and cramping the in-dustrial development of the country, is a problem fraught with great difficulties and one which it is of the highest importance to solve on lines of sanity and farsighted common ser as well as of devotion to the right. This is an era of federation and com-bination. Exactly as business men find they must often work through cor and as it is a tendency of these corporations to grow larger, so it is often necessary for la-boring men to work in federations, and these have become important factors of modern industrial life. Both kinds federation, capitalistic and labor can do much good, and as a nec corollary they can both do evil. Oppo sition to each kind of organization should take the form of opposition to whatever is bad in the conduct of any given corporation or union, not of at tacks upon corporations as such nor upon unions as such, for some of the nost farreaching beneficent work for ur people has been accomplished our people through both corporations and unions Each must refrain from arhitrary of tyrannous interference with the rights of others. Organized capital and organized labor alike should from that in the long run the interest of each must be brought into harmony to the fundamental rules of obedience to the law, of individual freedom and of justice and fair dealing toward all. Each should remember that in add tion to power it must strive after the wageworker, must be guaranteed hi liberty and his right to do as he likes with his property or his labor so long as he does not infringe upon the rights of others. It is of the highest import should endeavor to appreciate each the viewpoint of the other and the sure disaster that will come upon both in the long run if either grows to take as habitual an attitude of sour hostility nabition an attitude of sour nostity and district toward the other. Few people deserve better of the country than those representatives both of capital and labor—and there are many such—who work continually to bring about a good understanding of this kind, based upon wisdom and upon broad and kindly sympathy between employers and employed. Above all, we need to remember that any kind of class animosity in the political world is, if possible, even more wicked, even more destructive to national welfare, than sectional, race or religious and only upon condition that we keep tru to the principles upon which this na-tion was founded and judge each man not as a part of a class, but upon his individual merits. All that we have a right to ask of any man, rich or poor, whatever his creed, his occupation, his birthplace or his residence, is that he shall act well and honorably by his neighbor and by his country. We are neither for the rich man as such nor for the poor man as such; we are for the upright man, rich or poor. So far as the constitutional powers of the na-tional government touch these matters of general and viral moment to the na-tion, they should be exercised in conformity with the principles above set

"It is earnestly hoped that a sectary of commerce may be created, a seat in the cabinet. The rapid a seat in the cabinet. The rapid mul-tiplication of questions affecting labor and capital, the growth and complexity of the organizations through which both labor and capital now find expression, the steady tendency toward the employment of capital in huge corporations and the wonderful strides of this country toward lendership in the international business world justify an urgent demand for the creation of such a position. Substantially all the lead-ing commercial bodies in this country have united in requesting its creation. It is desirable that some such measur as that which has already passed th Senate be enacted into law. The crea self be an advance toward dealing with and exercising supervision over the whole subject of the great corpora tions doing an interstate business, at with this end in view the Congress should endow the department w large powers, which could be increaas experience might show the need,"

Not even the sainted McKinley could have said less in so many words. The strenuous Teddy is learning his lesson well.

Think of it: To say nothing of i numerable other strikes, lockouts, and boycotts, with injunctions against unions and arrest of union men, all over the land, we have had this year a strike of one hundred and forty-seven thousand coal naners against a little coterie of mine owners; this strike has lasted almost six months and was hardly ended for suspended) when the President began to write his message: it has involved terrible hardship for the men engaged in it and for their wives and families, and it has stirred the sympathies and called forth th willing sacrifices of hundreds of theu sands of other workingmen of all trades; the President himself has taken an ostentations part in "settling" the strike, and during the conferences held in his room the Coal Kings have shaken their fists under his nose and demanded in insolent terms that he mind his own business; the questions involved in the strike are still unsettled although the men are again at work, and there is at least a strong possibility that the conflict may be re-opened next year: meanwhile at the moment the message was sent to Congress, the sudden coming of winter weather had brought keen suffering to millions of people, because of the high price of coal. In the face of all these facts, the President has nothing more to say than that we ought to have "wisdom and broad and kindly sympathy between employers and employed."

Think of it, again: Congress has be fore it an Eight-Hour Bill, an Anti-Injunction Bill, and many other bills of more or less importance, bearing directly upon the labor question, which have been introduced at the request of and petitioned and begged for by the American Federation of Labor. On not one of these measures does the President dare to make a solitary rec ommendation.

tion is that relating to the proposed department of commerce. Does Prest dent Roosevelt think that he will solve the labor problem by creating a cabijobs to be used as rewards to conserva tive labor leaders, men who neglect the interest of their organizations in order to cultivate "broad and kindly sympathy" with the workers' enemics?

Doubtless this is what the President thinks, so far as he thinks at all on the subject. The increase of the Socialist vote in Nevember and the vote on the Socialist resolution at the New Orleans convention of the American Federation of Labor might have taught him something. But-we may nothing and learn nothing." - It is only the people who learn.

WHY HAVE WE NO COAL?

Cold weather has come. Hundreds of thousands of workingmen, all over the country, are enduring great hardships and, in the case of the children, the aged, and invalids of the working class, are in positive danger of their lives, because of the high price of fuel. It is well that the workers should think now, think hard and long, so that they will not forget within a fuel famine.

Who is to blame? It is very well for such men as Baer and Eliot and Hillis and Hewitt and Jerome to throw the blame upon the miners who stood idle for six months. But workingmen of the various trades will not join in that verdict. They have had their struggles, too. They know what a strike means. They know that a hundred and fifty thousand men do not stay on strike six months without good reason. But if the miners are not to blame, who then? Obviously the responsibility, if it is to be put on any men, must be put on Morgan and Baer and Markle and all the rest of the owners of the mines, the men who forbid the miners to work and to die tate the terms at which they may be permitted to produce the fuel that all

On the Coal Barons, on the capitalist class in general which supported them, and on the capitalist politicians who used the power of government to pro ect them on them, and them alone rests the responsibility for the suffer ing which the coming of winter now brings to the workers of the country. But, after all, it is not so important o say WHO is to blame as to say WHAT is to blame.

It does little good, nor is it alt gether fair or reasonable, to make this question of personal condemnation of imposing blame upon the capitalist and their agents, as men.

are probably not much more greedy and cruel and faithless than the aver age of men. Men's conduct depends chiefly on the social system in which they live and the position which they occupy in that system. The condust of the capitalist, whatever his personal inclinations, cannot, in the nature of things, be otherwise than greedy and cruel and faithless. It is only by such as a lord of industry; and if he fails to exercise those evil qualities which con tribute to capitalist success, he will not benefit the workers, but will only give place to some competitor less handi capped by ideas of kindliness and men, good or bad, who are to blame that we have no coal, but to look to the social system which gives those men the power and the motive to interrupt industry, to drive the workers to esperation, and so to deprive all of us of one of the prime necessities of life.

It is the capitalist system that is to plame—the system of private property in means of production socially produced and operated, the system which makes private profit the sole motive power of the industrial world-it is this system that is to blame. And if we would guard against the recurrence of such conflicts, involving such terrible and widespread suffering as nov prevails, and which are sure to recur under capitalism, now in one industry, against this growing danger, we have to think, not of petty reforms or changes in the mere personnel of goverpment, but of the radical change of the industrial system which will remove their cause.

In a word, the cold weather should make workingmen think seriously about Socialism-and it will,

The French parliament is conten plating the abolition of all titles of nobility. This is an outrage, a violation of sacred rights of property, and Mr. Roosevelt should intervene on be half of the American citizens-or, at least, the American ex-citizenesseswho are interested. Think of poor Anna Gould, who, by the exercise of ndustry, Trugality, and business agacity, honestly acquired the title of Countess Castellane. And now a wicked government proposes to confis cate the title and make her plain Madame! If this sort of thing is to be allowed, there will be no incentive to effort left to the people of Newport and Fifth Avenue.

WE AGREE AND DISAGREE.

The Brooklyn "Eagle" reports a part of a lecture by Leonard D. Abbott at a meeting of one of the Brooklyn dis-tricts last week. Commenting on the President's message, Comrade Abbott "It is remarkable with what a larg portion of the President's message So-ialists can agree, without holding the same reasons for so doing nor arriving at the same ultimate conclusions. We might, for the sake of being agreeable, consent to his statement that 'never be fore has material well being been so cent. However, whether the statement of His Majesty be true or not, it is certainly true that never or not, it is certainly true that never in the history of the world has labor produced so abundantly and never has it, with the wages received, been able to buy back such a small percentage of its products. In other words, never has the capitalist class so successfully exploited the wage-earning class, the figures of Labor Commissioner Wright showing that labor is enabled to regain only one-fifth of its product.

"We agree with His Strenuous Ex cellency that there must be incentive to 'individual energy' and that 'this is in no wise inconsistent with power to act in combination for aims which can-not so well be achieved by the individ-ual acting alone. tive or a good one. There is a poor widow woman with a boy to look after and provide for while she is at work in one of the big department stores. The boy takes to thieving and lying (he is the son of a U. S. recruiting sergeant, so the latter habit may have been inherited), the mother whips him with a rope; the Gerry Society man therefore takes away the child-from her and has her arrested. The magistrate, good man, is so indignant and throws the woman into prison over Thanksgiving Day, and, of course, loses and she her place. Now, because this poor woman is not wiser than all of our civilization; because she does not know how to do better than the wisdom of all our laws combined; be-'cause she follows the same course in penology as the sainted Brockway of Elmira; because she gave the very same thing to the boy that the highly indignant moral magistrate does to her, viz.—punishment; she is branded ns wicked. The man who represents Colombia at the court of President Theodore, Washington, D. C., may be a good Re-publican of the old school, but evidently he is a back number for Wash ington, inasmuch as he has allowed the constitution of his country to stand between the capitalists of his country another country. This constitution forbids the conveyance away of soverritory. That phrase was overcome by conveying something else called "per-petual control." Now, because Concha-could not see the difference he has obtained the grand bornice. What a splendid instrument for perpetual fraud in the hands of a ruling class is a constitution? There is manifestly no end to the art of discovering things it has not specifically forbidden. Fancy our own poor old document meeting its modern self in a lonely place, how they would stare

The fierce desire of the capitalists, of all minor shades, to have that canal, through lies thick or lies thin, is in itself some reason for the workers to pause and consider that canal. In all probability since capitalism blows so hot about it, we, for the present, may blow cold. No peoples hitherto sepa-rated are to be brought in touch by the new ditch; it has nothing like the meral possibilities that partly con-dones the cutting of that terrible cemetery for Egyptian laborers, the Suez Canal. On the other hand, it is spre to require, as a diplomatic corollary of its existence, the annexation of the territory now the subject of that jocund phrase, "perpetual control." The canal eans war with the Latin races, of sterring up of religious and national animosities without meaning, and, therefore, fierce as hell. And the working classes will have to do the fight-ing and to suffer a long mental misdirection away from the class struggle in addition to the horrors of war.

The ghost of Hamlet's grand-child will be permitted to stalk over the stage in view of an admiring public cometime during the next session of Congress. > The key of the situation in every enpitalistic country is possessed by lars an all the year round league of war directed against the right or the ability of labor to strike against, or resist, its own subjugation. France to day is like a great game board where the devices of all these money conthe devices of all these money con-spirators are converging on the strike of the stokers and firemen at Mar-seilles. Not being a Protestant coun-try, the leaven of hypocrisy has not yet so generally descended from clergy to people there a with an end to people there, as with us; and so they are still able to call a spade a spade though they only see a war be-tween rich and poor. The same crowd who besought our own government o behalf of suffering humanity to knock down the coal miners are trying that legislature against the stokers. But so for the Minister of Commerce declares against taking sides with the com-panies (openly) and for recognizing the right of labor to strike. These words similar occasion. Whether cleaner or not, let next week tell. But be assured of this—to reduce labor to slavery is the program of capitalism everywhere; and there is nothing in the Franch government, or our own, but capital. The best, therefore, that labor can expect will be a truce of expediency.

It is amusing to see what "softies" our upper class people are, and wha sums of money even hard-headed-bustness people are willing to pay a man for tickling them, when they could tickle themselves to the same purpose for nothing. Here is Jules Huret from France tickling the thick-skinned members of our Alliance Francaise with a yarn concerning his great in-terviews with Socialist leaders in Europe, and his great discovery that the common Socialists are not Socialists, but only discontented people, and tae big Socialists are still all patriotic Germans, Italians, Frenchmen, etc. rendy to take up arms against each other like the rest of us. Some tickling is dangerous; as the old author of Valentine Vox shows in the case Goodman, who was kept crazy by feathering the soles of his feet.

It may seem strange that the Secre

fary of the Treasury in his financial report deems it germane to the finance business to deal specifically with the secret service of the government and to put in among his growing columns of dollars a recommendation for "the investigation of secret associations of industry," and which the Secretary says are anarchistic. On dit. If you know they are anarchistic, W. S., why these grants of money for secretly in-vestigating them? If such societies industry, why is it we have so few assassinations? If the Secretary does not know any more than his "think," is he not seeking to set up a Vidocq regime of spies in the labor unions; If there be anything at all but black reaction in this suggestion, why should it come from the dollars rather than from the brains and patriotism of the nation? It is truly nothing more than a war between the moneykind and the only in command of the American detachment of moneykind. As to the anarchists, I doubt if there be of them anywhere outside of Wall Street with sense enough to associate talists' Pecksniffian name for Social ism. Through that door they hope to stab progress in the back.

So tenacious is the capitalistic mind of the doctrine that what they want is: that they not only sell watered stock on the basis of all they expect to get out of it, and charge interest on the imaginary principal in the water, but handle that imagination like real estate. The Pennsylvania Railroad now seeking its big franchise, declares that if the Aldermen don't grant it they will seek "relief" from the legis-lature. Relief from what? From be-ing opposed, from being hindered. osition is a nuisance from which

Independent labor parties have sprung into existence wherever Social-ism has become a power. They have flourished or declined just according to our attitude toward them. Where we have tried bargaining and "alliances" they have prospered at our expense, where we have pursued the even tend of our way, they have declined and the workers have realized Socialism—plain, indicates that there, at least, the Socialism to be their onclass drew largely from the Repubened by the sentimentalists with all ly hope. Socialism stands for the lican ranks. The Democrats polled working class as a whole without "ifs" or "buts." The trade unions embrace only a minority of the working class, Socialism appeals just as much to the workers outside the unions as to those within. If the unions having dis-covered that the strike and the boycott are inefficient, through our propagan-da, decide to take up the political struggle, but, failing to comprehend fully lose sight of the end, and mistake the plored. But it is not for us to go with them in their wanderings. Even if they win temporary and superficial successes, we must see to it that our light burns clear and bright and to it, sooner or later, they will turn. When they become Socialists they will join us and suport us and there will be no "fusion" and no "trading." Meantime. short of that, no fusion is possible which does not involve a saportunity, our entire friendship, and cheerfully aiding them in all their struggles, we must not think of trun-cating one jot or one tittle of our prin-ciples. The Californian comrades have set a dangerous precedent. Fortunate ly, it has not proven very alluring in its

What can you do about it? absolutely nothing, so long as chil-dren's life blood may be turned into gold; so long as children's shrouds yield the price of rich fabrics; so long as children's lives are the medium for the purchase of wealth and honors. You call for justice, but there is no justice; wrong and cruelty are the price of all your social system prizes. You call for mercy; your social system strangles it in its bearing

But there is no use in going into hysteries about child labor. There is no use in carsing the men who grind children's lives into gold. There's no use in shedding crocodile tears over the premature graves of innocence. It is not well to put the premium high on these things and then rage at the men who grasp at our prizes. It is far bet-ter to abolish the profit that those who deal in children's lives realize from the traffic than to curse them for collecting the wage we, as society

THE CALIFORNIA AFFAIR.

At the general meeting of Local New York last Saturday, called to consider the action of the Socialist Party of San Francisco and Los Angeles in fusing with the U. L. P., after lengthy fusing with the U. L. P., after lengthy discussion two resolutions were adopt-ed, one dealing specifically with this affair and the other dealing with the general attitude of the Socialist Party towards trades unions engaged in inde-pendent political action.

The first resolution, which was proposed by Comrade Slobodin, is as fol-

"Resolved, That Local New York, in general meeting assembled, unqual-fieldy and unreservedly disapproved the tactics of fusion in practice and compromise in principle adopted and pursued by the California Socialist Party during the late elections and still pursued now, and urge the California Socialist Party to revise its methods and place itself in accord with the non-fusion and uncompromising principles and tactics of the Socialist Party of the United States."

The second resolution, moved by Comrade Hillquit:

'In view of the recent occurre in the state of California, Local New York of the Social Democratic Par-ty hereby makes the following decla ration of its attitude towards trade unions engaging in independent politi-cal action, and recommends the said declaration for adoption by the National Council of the party at its next annual meeting.
"To accomplish its own emancipal tion, labor must conduct its struggles against the oppression of capital on the economic and the political field with equal efficiency.

workingmen concern their immediate and separate interests, and are mosefficiently conducted by organizations of separate trades, independently or in conjunction with each other. But the political struggles of the workingmen concern the general and ultimate in-terests of their class, and can only be conducted successfully by a national party of labor, with branch organizations in the various states and munic polities trained in political battle, and standing for the ultimate abolition the entire wage system as well as for all measures of temporary relief of ther conditions.

"And while the two kinds of organi zations are parts of the same labor movement and require the most cor dial support and co-operation of each other for their mutual success, the special mission of each should be lim ited to its proper sphere of activity.

"The Socialist Party of the Unite States has shown itself fully enpable of waging the political struggles of the working class in this country, an unions, it has every prospect of bring ing about the political supremacy o within a time not far distant. When therefore, trade unions as such or-ganize for political action in opposi-tion to or independent of the party adopting different platforms, and at times compromising with the political foes of their class, they impair their own usefulness as an economic factor as well as that of the Socialist Party interests of the labor movement as

"We, therefore, call upon the trade unions of this country, in their own enlightened interest, to support the political struggles of the Socialist Party instead of putting obstacles in the way of its progress by forming upon all subdivisions of the Socialist Party to maintain their positions as the political organizations of the work ing class in their respective localities and not to vield that position to any other political parties of labor or other erwise, nor to fuse or compromise with such parties."

HAVERHILL COMMENT.

Republican Mayor-elect Henri R. Watson (elected by a plurality of 14 votes over Parkman B. Flanders, Socialist candidate), discussing the result of the city campaign in the Haverhill

"Gazette," says:
"I think that the result is disappointing to the Republican friends who fought with me. I expected a larger vote, and can see that I did not get is because of the advent of Mr. Kelly' (the Democratic candidate). "I won because some of the Democrats voted for me, and a good many Republicans were saved by their desire to beat the ment with other candidates, even in city elections. I have my friends t thank, both in and out of the party." Comrade Flanders, being asked to express his view of the result, said:

"I am pleased with the showing made by our party. It has been a splendid campaign, one of the best and I am satisfied."

It is the general feeling of Socialists that, even though the recount de-manded may verify the present report of the vote (which is by no means cer-tain), we may be well satisfied with the result. The Republican and Demo-eratic parties in Haverhill, as in Brockton, are being slowly but surely forced together and the lines drawn between Socialism on the one side and capitalism on the other.

The Republican "Gazette" recogniz that the Socialists have good ground for satisfaction. Editorially the "Ga zette" speaks as follows:

Mayor and Aldermen of the city for the coming year have been elected and the attempt to once more place the city in the Socialistic column has been defeated. Naturally enough the victory is a matter of congratulation among the successful caudidates and their friends, but to the great majority of the party, and to any one who is con-cerned in maintaining the reputation of the city as a conservatively governed community, there is something more than the spirit of expitation in the consideration of the election figures. A 6,400 is a small schievement for a party which in a vote of 5,800 at the state election secured a plurality of nearly 1,200, and indicates that some thing is wrong. Where the fault lies and the means of remedying that fault. party in this city to search out.

"The election returns are confirma-tory of the position of the Gazette 7.00 the Socialist Party is still to be considered a dangerous factor in muni-cipal politics, and that as the direct oppenent of Socialistic principles in city, state or nation, the Republican party must be looked to for the conest, and that men who subscribe Republican principles owe it as a duty to be loyal to that party and its nominations. Not one word of criticism of the Democratic candidate for Mayor he received is a handsome tribute to his personality and the respect which his fellow-citizens have for him, and undoubtedly there were in the city frundreds more who would gladly, un-der other canditions, have marked their ballots for him, but who read the signs of the times so plainly as to un derstand that such action meant the election of the Socialist candidate, and for that reason refrained and voted the Republican ticket. Hundreds of Re-publicans failed to read these signs or, regardless of their portent, took the chance, and the narrow margin of Re-publican plurality to-day indicates the desperate character of the chance they took. Whether it will teach a less not time only will tell."

New York is the same as the Socialist Party of other states. The difference of name is due solely to provisions of the election laws. Do not confuse this organization with the so-called "So-cialist Labor Party," or "union

THE SOCIALIST PARTY AND THE TRADE UNIONS.

The Duty the Party Owes the Unions and What It Can Rightly Demand of Them.

What relations should subsist between the Socialist Party and plons? What is the duty of the Socialist Party and of individual So-cialists toward the unions? What, on the other hand, does the Socialist Party have a right to ask of the

These are questions that must be anwered, for the two movements. here to stay; both are growing in strength and developing in spirit and policy; they are made up of members of the same class and, in their-differ ent ways, deal with the same problem st hold close relations of so sort, either harmonious and mutually helpful or discordant and injurious to

In our attempt to answer these ques we address ourselves both to ers and sympathizers of the Sc cialist Party, whether they are trade unionists or not, and to trade unionists of every shade of political opinion. We present embodies the accepted opinio the Socialist Party upon this sub ject, as developed by years of experi-

The Common Ground.

The Socialist Party has its sole res on for existence in the division of so clety into classes, the exploitation and ssion of the working class, and the necessity for its emancipation. Neither of the old parties openly stand for the interests of any one class; they pretend not to recognize the existence of classes; each of them claims to represent the interests of all the peo-But facts are stubborn and de not disappear because men deny their existence. The class struggle is a fact; and the very parties which, in their ante-election professions, refuse to see tt in their post-election practices, give the most striking illustrations of its force; they pretend to represent all the people in order that they may win political power, with which to serve a part of the people at the expense est. The Socialist Party takes no such false position. It claims to represent only a part of the people—the more numerous and the only useful class—as against the small and useless class of exploiters whom the old parties serve. The Socialist Party, then, is an or an interest and having as its object the accanement of the interests of the accanement of the interests of the workers as against those of the capitalists.

The trade unions in general have, in the past, refused to admit in words the existence of the class struggle between capitalists and workers; some of them still do not clearly recognize it; we often hear labor leaders (even hones ones) talking in the same strain with old-party politicians about the "bro-therhood of Capital and Labor" and declaring that the object of the unions is not to fight the capitalists but "to establish harmony between employer unions fortunately belie their words Just as the old-party politicians, de-nying the existence of classes, faithfully serve the capitalist class, so th unions, denying the conflict of class interests, yet put forth every effort and often make heroic sacrifices in fighting for the interests of the working class against their employers. It is no words that count, but acts; and the action of the unions, in demanding re tion of working hours or incre of pay or improvement of the co tions of labor, against the will and the ons as the strike, the boycott, and the label-such action proves that the only reason for their existence is in the antagonistic interests of the work ing class and the employing class.

The trade unions, then, like the So cialist Party are organizations founded on working-class interest and hav-ing as their object the advancement of the interests of the workers as against

as we shall show, the whole of the common ground-of the two movements, what is the duty of Socialists, as a party and as individuals, toward

It is the duty of Socialists as individuals—as has been declared in our last national convention—to join the unions of their various crafts, where such exist, and to act in good faith as

It is the duty of the party to lend its support to the unions in their strug-gles—its financial support when neces-sary and feasible (as it has done, most energetically, in the late miners' strike), and at all times its moral support, which is often still more valuable The national, state, and local plat-forms of the Socialist Party, its papers and pamphlets and leaflets, and the utterances of its candidates and other esmen all help to fulfil this obliga

This much we owe to the unions simply because they are organizations of our class; this much they have a right to demand of us; and whereve e party organization or any of its smbers fail to do these things they fail of doing their full duty as Social-

Cur Separate Tasks.

But while the Socialist Party and the unions have this common ground, they are far from being identical. Both their purposes and their methods are different, though not antagonistic. Each has its work, which the other cannot do, and each must leave the other free to perform its special func

The specific purpose of the unions in to carry on the battles of the working class in detail mader the conditions of the capitalist system. So long as capitalism lasts the workers will be over worked and robbed and oppressed. Trade unions cannot put a stop to this. But they often can and do somewhat lighten the burden of toll and some what reduce the degree of profit-rob bery and somewhat check the oppres sors' insolence; the gain, though small, is worth fighting for. Still oftener they succeed in defending the workers from a lowering of their condition, which would take place were there no union.

And, perhaps more important than all, they train the workers in the habit of feeling and thinking and acting together, the invaluable habit of organi-

The means and methods for carry ing on this daily struggle are ind or economic, not political—the strike, the boycott, the label, the working-card, the benefit funds. In order to use these methods with the maximum of success it is desirable that every workman in a trade should belong to the trade organization, and no distinc-tion can be made on account of politics any more than of race or religion A union which should admit only Re publicans or only Democrats or only Socialists or should exclude either of these or discriminate between them

To sum up: The unions fight for im-mediate and partial improvement of the workers' condition by purely indus trial methods which require for their successful operation that all workingmen shall be taken in without distinct tion of political belief.

The specific function of the Socialis Party is to fight for the complete emancipation of the working class from exploitation and class tyranny This can be accomplished only by the overthrow of the capitalist system and the building up of a Co-operative Commonwealth. This is a far larger atm than that of the unions. It is a differ ent but not a conflicting aim.

To say that the Socialist Party must act always with this final aim is not to say that it can do nothing fo the immediate betterment of the work gains partial control of the powers of government or even before it has gained any victories at the polls through the fear which its growth inspires), it can and does do very much to advance the immediate interests of the working class; and it does this the more effectively in proportion as it guides itself by the light of its one ultimate purpose.

The methods which the Socialist Party uses for this great battle are distinctly political methods-education in economic and political science, or-ganization of those who accept its principles, and political campaigns for the purpose of putting the powers of government in the hands of men pledged to carry those principles into effect. In order that these methods should be used with success it is necessary that all who believe in the principles of Socialism should be politically united; no distinction can be made on any other ground. If the party should on other questions-even on question which may legitimately be considered not succeed as a political party.

To sum up: The Socialist Party seeks the ultimate complete emancips tion of the working class, through the monwealth, and fights for this end by educational and political methods which require that no qualification but sincere support of Socialist principles be recognized.

The Limit of Our Duty.

In view of this difference in purpos and method between the two move ments, what are the limits of our duty to the unions? What have the union not a right to demand of us?

They have no more right to demand that the Socialist Party shall sub-ordinate its political efforts to their in dustrial battles than the party has to demand the reverse of them. It is the duty of the Socialist Party to teach Socialism and get votes for the Socialist ticket, and every other consideration must be subordinate to these.

The unious have no right to demand on one side or the other in their internal questions. If they ask it, we have no right to yield. It is neither the right nor the duty of the Socialis Party to involve itself in conflicts of jurisdiction and the like among or within the unions. Such interference as shown by experience in the past, is harmful to both movements. Such questions can be solved only by the unions themselves. The Socialist Party should give its support to unions—and to any workingmen, organized or un organized—as against the capitalists but not to one union as against an

We speak here of the party, as such With the individual Socialist it is a different matter. It is the duty of each Socialist to join the union of his trade; and he is there in duty bound to take a position on union questions. He should act there, fearlessly and energetically, for the highest good of his class, which will include the highest good of his craft.

Nor are Socialists bound to refrain from public discussion of the policy of the unions. Provided such discussion is based on principle and is carried on in an intelligent manner, provided it is fraternal criticism and advice, not flattery nor abuse nor attempted dictation, it is helpful to both movements.

In a word, the Socialist Party does not seek to dictate to the unions in their affairs nor is it willing to be dic-tated to by them in its own affairs; it shuns entangling alliances; it desires that the two movements should be car-tied on independently in order that they may be carried on harmoniously.

What We Demand.

What, on the other hand, does the Socialist Party ask of the unions? Two things, we think, we have a right methods of the two movements. They would rightly object did the party seek to form rival unions. With equal rea-son, the Socialist Party objects if the ns seek to form a new party. the nature of things, as pointed out be-fore, the union must include men of all political beliefs. A party can include only men who agree in political belief. The union which attempts to be also a political party, therefore, must either se to be a real union or fail to be a real party. The Socialist Party must maintain its right to the political field as strictly as it withholds its hand from the industrial field.

Second, The unions are the great primary school of the working class. Experience shows that it is imp as reason shows that it would be un wise, to prevent the discussion of political questions there. There is poli-tics in every union in the land. It is well that it should take the form of open discussion, not of secret intrigue. We have a right to ask, therefore, that the unions give an opportunity in their meetings for free discussion of politi-cal questions and that Socialists be given exactly the same chance as the advocates of other parties.

Only Way to Win.

This brings us to the final point—s word of counsel to Socialists in the

Aside from your duty as union mem bers, your one duty there as Socialists is to make more Socialists. You cannot do this by intrigue nor by tricks of parliamentary law nor by any means except convincing argu-ment and good example.

It is not going to do the party any good to "capture" a union; it is likely to harm both the union and the party. An "endorsement" is not worth the paper it is written on unless it is the cheerful expression of the honest conviction of a majority of the members. The Socialist Party does not wan anything but what it can get in goo faith; nothing gained otherwise will help it in the least; and any temptation to gain apparent victories by other means should be sternly put aside.

THE SOCIALIST PARTY.

The party which this paper repre sents is known nationally as the So-cialist Party. In New York, on account of certain provisions of the elec-tion laws, it is obliged to use the name Social Democratic Party. Its emblen in this state is the Arm and Torch.

This party should not be confused with the so-called Socialist Labor party, which has but two reasons for existence—to foster dissension in the Socialist movement and to attack and slander the trade unions.

Many votes intended for the Socialist Party (or Social Democratic Party York) have been cast by mi take for the "unic take for the "union-smeehing" S. L. names. We call on our readers to bear in mind the difference and to convey the information to others.

MORE LABOR LAWS ARE KNOCKED OUT.

Whom the gods would make destroy they first make mad." The courts, whose infamous decisions against the workers have done so much in the past to educate the latter, and make Socialists of them, are still at their work This week brings news of two more labor laws" declared unconstitutiona one in Ohio, the other in Indiana.

The Chicago "Citizen" tells the story for Ohio. It says:
 "The eight-hour law in Ohio was knocked out by the Supreme Court, Tuesday.

"The law was enacted April 16, 1900. and was the result of many years of agitation on the part of the organized workers of the state.

"The test came in the case of the city of Cleveland against the Clement Bros. Construction Co., which concerwas building a sewer and employing its men more than the legal eight hot per day. The city sought to enfor the penalty of $10 for each day that th law was violated, an aggregate of $320. The Circuit Court, about a year ago, ruled in favor of the defendants and the case has been hanging fire ever

"The Supreme Court on Tuesday held that 'No part of the contract price can be withheld on account of violation of the eight-hour act.'

"We have said before and repeat that law depends upon the class interests and instincts of those in power. If workingmen elect capitalists and their agents, they must expect that consti-tutions and laws will be interpreted by and for capitalism. If workingmen elect persons who stand for their class interests they will win their cases, and

The Indiana case is reported by the Chicago "Socialist" as follows:

"A decision of the Indiana Suprem Court has declared the 'pluck me' store law unconstitutional and invalid. The law against these stores had been by the last Indiana legislature passed by the last Indiana legislature, and is now knocked out in the plea that it is 'class legislation.' Its provisions dealt exclusively with coal miners and 'merchants,' as the agents of the coal company that do the plucking are termed, and it was contended that the law placed the 'merchant' at a disadvantage compared with other a disadvantage compared with other exploiters to whom an assignment of wages might be made. So the eternal and inalienable right of all classes of and inalienable right of all classes of exploiters to pluck the proletariat has again been vindicated. The latter is fair game anybow, and should not complain so long as he votes for the system which has as its basis his con-tinual plucking, and then all thual plucking, and then files an ob-jection against one special brand of plucker."

We learn slowly, indeed, but we do learn. In a couple of years, at the pres-ent rate, we shall begin to elect So-cialist judges, and then we shall get decisions of a different sort.

By Franklin MHWentworth.

The election frauds in Philadelphia are an an-nual occurence, but this year they reached an unusual climax of the picturesque. The Fifth Ward outdid itself, for, having cast only 1,967 votes in 1900 for President McKinley, it gave 5,173 to the noble Pennypacker. As an exam-ple of ballot-box stuffing this is held, in Phindelphia, as a record-beater, -[Springfield Republi-

The American people have arrived at that point of moral degeneracy where they look upon indisputable proof of ballot-box stuffing with a amile, and their greatest newspapers dismiss the subject with a satirical or amusing paragraph.

The American people calling them-selves Republicans or Democrats and professing to believe in representative government, stand idle and impotent while their ballots are treated as use less paper and their sacred privileg of franchise is dragged in the mire Their manhood is not of a quality to right wrongs; it is too flaceld and flab-by to avenge grossest insult.

It is a sign of death; the American Republic is dying.

Republic is dying.

Those ingenious persons of the political division called Democrats, who point to the Philadelphia putresc as Republicau, and therefore not of their doing, are invited to turn to Colorado where persons of THEJR label in Democratic districts held back the returns until they found out how Arapahoe county (Denver) voted. They counted on so deftly magnifying Dem ocratic returns as to overcome any Re-publican plurality shown by Denver. ocrats wanted to get the of fices, and the capitalists' money that with them, away from the Re goes with them, away from boo publicans, who stand frankly for boo dle and plutocracy and hence better deserve them. The only thing which prevented the success of the Demoprevented the success of the Demo-crats in this their highly moral effort was that in certain districts where the Socialist Party vote was big enough to be considered THEY DID

NOT DARE TO TAMPER WITH IT. Democrats stole the ballots of Re publican voters in Democratic dis tricts and Republicans stole the bal-lots of Democratic voters in Republican districts. This is legitimate in apitalist politics, and as both parties do it they have nothing to fear from

BUT BEHIND EVERY VOTE OF THE SOCIALIST PARTY THERE IS A MAN, AND THERE IS SOME-THING IN MANHOOD WHICH TERRIFIES THE SCOUNDREL AND KEEPS HIM FROM HIS IN-STINCTIVE INDULGENCES.

The present economic system has eaten out the moral fibre of its votaries. Those who uphold it have no longer any determinate stock of either intellectual or spiritual virility. The state of political decay—the dying state—has within itself no dynamic with which to arrest its dissolution.

One hundred years ago so insolent and undisguised a fraud as this of Philadelphia would have aroused the Philadelphia would have arouse the American people to a frenzy. for then their faith had not been emasculated: they were capable of intellectually conceiving that a menace to their bal-lot in one place menaced it at every other, and they treasured the ballot as something which had been bought with blood.

Now, to-day, when they are traduand their ballots stolen, they stand as vulgar dupes of still more vulgar poli-tical tricksters—tools of their economic masters—and impotently smile at their own debasement. Their chiefest ethi-cal impulse lifts them only to a duli

AND YET THE DAY IS ALMOST HERE WHEN THEIR INDIFFER-ENCE TO THE USE OF THE BAL-LOT IS TO SERVE AS THE EX-CUSE FOR THEIR DISFRAN-CHISEMENT. HERE AND THERE, THERE IS CREEPING INTO THE PRESS AND INTO CONTEM-PORARY LITERATURE THE SUG GESTION, COMING FROM PER-SONS IN HIGH PLACES, THAT THE BALLOT IS A FAILURE.

Such an opinion may in the face of nditions to-day be an honest one. In 1879 Henry George, the greatest spiritual nobleman whom America has yet produced, wrote: "Given a community with republican institutions, in which one class is too rich to be shorn of its luxuries, no matter how public affairs are adminis tered, and another so poor that a few dollars on election day will seem more than any abstract consideration; in which the few roll in wealth and the many seeth with discontent at a condition of things they know not how to remedy, and power must pass into the hands of jobbers who will buy and sell it as the Praetorians sold the Roman purple, or into the hands of dema-gogues who will seize and wield it for time, only to be replaced by worse

The conditions Henry George plc-tured in 1879 are to-day partially real-ized, and it is a feeble-vision which cannot see their complete realization in America in the near ruture.

From such a realization to disfran chisement and arbitrary rule is but a step. Many a well-meaning but un-philosophical person discouraged by public immorality would turn with refor houses water tight.

They ask but the right to labor and to live by the strength of their 'good" government.

Then the past would have to be hands—

The Socialist Party offers a 1 The Socialist Party offera a means of making the political efforts of labor effective. In the first place there can be no disputing the fact that the Socialist Party is from start to finish a "Labor Party". Its membership, platform, principles, organization, officers, literature, everything are determined, controlled and directed by and for the If it is not, then we will have to try ontrolled and directed by and for the The very feebleness of political ex-pression in the old parties, indicated by indifference in registration and to laboring class. He will not allow it to be taken from him, and in defendetter its condition the Socialist Party is always found on the side of the worker and against the exploiter. The ing his own right he will defend the Socialist Party stands with the workers during the whole year in their eco-nomic strugle and then does not de-sert them on the crucial day at the is blazing the Promethean fire which ballot box.

> But the claim of any party to represent the interest of the laborers does not depend upon its membership or its name so much as upon the principles for which it stands. The principles of the Socialist Party are those which the best minds of the labor movement all over the world long ago decided were essential to the liberation of the wage worker. It recognizes the fact which is stated in the preamble to the constitutions of nearly every trade ource of all wealth, and demands that the necessary steps be taken to en-able labor to retain all it produces and to control the process of production. The only way this can be secured is hrough the colective ownership by the laborers, of the land and machine ry with which they work in the pro-duction of wealth. These facts have now become so thoroughly recognized as true that any party that should tru-ly represent the laboring class would be compelled to simply duplicate the statements and positions already taken by the Socialist Party in its platforms and public statements.

> It is thus evident that as to make-up and principles, the basic essentials the Socialist Party is eminently fitted to be considered as THE party of the working class. But when it is compared with a party which does not yet exist, or in other words, when the question is presented as to whether the workers shall lend their energies to support of the Socialist Party or shall assist in the formation of a new one, very many more and great adappear on the side of the So

> A new party will find it necessary at the very beginning to spend a large proportion of its energies in perfecting the details of its organization. But the Socialist Party, especially in the city of Chicago, is already thoroughly organized, with one or more branches in very ward, and is even now pushing the work of precinct organization in many of the wards. It has evolved a plan of organization which has been tested by long experience, involving the-use of the iniative and referendum in the highest degree, so that every portion of the Party is completely sub-ject to the control of the rank and file.

> The recent rapid growth of the So-cialist movement has made the So-cialist Party an official party in Chicago. This does away with the laborus and costly work of securing signa tures, which must be performed by any new party.

Any labor party which would be or ganized in this city apart from the So-cialist Party would be simply local and would disappear together with the lines were drawn on a wider scale in The Brockton "Times" says, in its state or national elections. The Socialist Party on the other hand, has a complete national, and indeed an inter-"It was an awrat waxing up-for the Republicans. The Socialists claimed they would make the Republican majorities national organization, reaching into almost every state and with official standing in a large number of states, with three members in the Massachuwould make the Republican majordes look small at city election. The Republicans, spurred on by very necessity, waged a vigorous campaign. The most effective party organization that could be assembled was put into worksetts legislature, and minor officers in various other localities, whose actions have always been in strict accord with the interests of the laborers. The Socialist Party is to-day well equipped with literature, both periodi-cal and otherwise, written by the ablest minds of the labor movement of the world. Its press has been tested by time and has always been upon the side of the workers at every point. From every point of view therefore the Socialist Party fills every possible demand for a labor party. It is controlled by and composed of laborers; it is, founded upon the principles that time and wide experience have shown to be those best fitted to secure the interests of the laborers; its organization is democratically controlled in acinterests of the laborers; its organiza-tion is democratically controlled in ac-cordance with the principles of the labor movement, and it possesses liter-ature, speakers and press, together with all other elements of permanency and effectiveness, and a wide-spread, cohesive organization such as is ab solutely essential to any decisive ac-tion in the political field at the present time.—Chicago Socialist.

The struggle is now between the capitalist class and the working class. The possession of the means of livelihood gives to the capitalists the od gives to the capitalists th control of the government, the press the pulpit, and the schools, and enables them to reduce the workingmen to a state of intellectual, physical and so cial inferiority, political subservience and virtual slavery. The economic interests of the capitalist class dominate our entire social system; the lives of the working class are recklessly sacrificed for profit, wars are fomented between nations, indis criminate slaughter is encouraged and the destruction of whole races is sancloned in order that the capitalists may extend their commercial dominlon abroad and enhance their suprem-But the same economic causes which developed capitalism are leading to So-cialism, which will abolish both the capitalist class and the class of wage workers. And the active force in bringing about this new and higher or-der of society is the working class. All other classes, despite their apparent or actual conflicts, are alike interested in the upholding of the system of private ownership of the instruments of wealth production. The Democratic, Republican, the bourgeois public own ership parties, and all other partie which do not stand for the complete overthrow of the capitalist system of roduction, are alike political repre-entatives of the capitalist class. while we deciare that the develop-ment of economic conditions tends to the overthrow of the capitalist system, we recognize that the time and manner of the transition to Socialism also depend upon the stage of development reached by the proletariat. We, there-fore, consider it of the utmost importance for the Socialist Party to support all active efforts of the working class to better its condition and to elect Socialists to political offices, in order to facilitate the attainment of this end

As such means we advocate; 1. The public ownership of all means of transportation and communication and all other public utilities, as well as of all industries controlled by monlies, trusts, and combines. No part of the revenue of such industries to be applied to the reduction of taxes on property of the capitalist class, but to be applied wholly to the increase of vages and shortening of the hours of labor of the employees, to the improve-ment of the service and diminishing

2. The progressive reduction of the hours of labor and the increase of wages in order to decrease the share the capitalist and increase the share of the worker in the product of labor.

3. State or national insurance of working people in case of accidents, ack of employment, sickness and want in old age; the funds for this purpose to be collected from the revenue of the capitalist class, and to be administered under the control of the working class

4. The inauguration of a system public industries, public credit to ased for that purpose in order that the workers be secured the full product of 5. The education of all children up to the age of eighteen years, and state and municipal aid for books, clothing,

6. Equal civil and political rights for 7. The initiative and referendum, proportional representation and the right of recall of representatives by their constituents. But in advocating these measures as steps in the overthrow of capitalism and the establishment of the Co-operative Commonwealth, we warn working class against the so-called public ownership movements as an at-tempt of the capitalist class to secure governmental control of public utilities for the purpose of obtaining great-er security in the exploitation of other industries and not for the amelioration of the conditions of the working class.
